The Communities

The PHP South Coast 2015 conference is made up of several PHP communities in the area, namely the PHP Hampshire, PHP Dorset, and BrightonPHP user groups. The conference is run by passionate volunteers who are determined to create a premier PHP conference right here on the UK's south coast.

All of these user groups were started with the intention of:

- Creating learning opportunities from industry leading PHP developers around the world
- Raising the worldwide profile of the PHP community
- Creating networking opportunities for developers in the community
- Encouraging personal development of web developers
- Creating a diverse and thriving community around the PHP programming language in the south of the UK.
